Quail Shooting Season Opens in Kentucky Tomorrow.

Birds Reported Plentiful in Some Sections, While They Are Scarce in Others.

The quail shooting season in Kentucky opens tomorrow. In some localities birds are said to be plentiful, while in other sections they are reported quite scarce.

The game law extends from November 15 to the first of the year and during this period quail can be shot and exposed for sale, but, after January 1 it is as much an offense to sell a bird as it is to shoot one out of season. The only law, outside of the limit period for hunting, now on the statute books of Kentucky is the non-resident law. This is a copy of the Indiana law, and requires every citizen of another state who hunts in Kentucky to pay a license of $25.50 or become subject to a fine for every offense.
Similar laws exist at present in most of the states of the country.

HUNTERS RETURN.

Plenty of Small Game Bagged
But Deer Scarce.

Messrs. E. B. Long, Dr. Jas. O.
Cook, and Stanley Long, all of this city; Al Rutland, of Empire, R. J.
Carothers and Will Broadie, of Lafayette, John D. Anderson, and D.
Peyton, of Nashville, Thos. Williams, of Adams, Tenn., W. W. Simmons, of Memphis, and Ellis Bancroft, of Battle Creek, Mich., returned Wednesday night from their Arkansas hunt.

They pitched tent at Old Town, Ark., where they spent a week.
The party found turkey, duck, squirrels and other small game plentiful, but large game was very scarce. On account of the very warm weather the outing was not what it should have been, but all report having had a pleasant trip of it.

COL. HENDRICK

Passes Through Town and Finds Everybody for Him.

Hon. John K. Hendrick, of Paducab, en route to Madisonville, stopped over in the city Wednesday night. He met a lot of prominent citizens yesterday before his train time and received universal assurance of support. There will, from present indications, be no formable opposition to Col. Hendrick in his race for Governor in this county. He visited many counties in the recent campaign and found strong support everywhere he went. He is especially strong in the Third district and his friends assure him that Warren, Logan and other large counties will instruct for him.

ASYLUM RUMORS

Are Followed By the Appearance of Inspector Hines.

State Inspector Henry D. Hines, accompanied by Mr. H. B. Ware, of Frankfort, arrived in the city yesterday and registered at Hotel Latham. There are rumors that the presence of the inspector in the city is one of special significance.
It is said that there has been a serious breach between commissioned officers of the Western Asylum and it is believed that serious charges have been preferred requiring the attention of Inspector Hines. There have been some very ugly rumors recently of a different nature, some of them said to have contained truth enough to justify the discharge of one or more employees of the institution.
